

It must be Love

By Andrea Louise Watson

Paul is recording a video message for Jenny. He is quite close to the camera so we don't see much behind him

Hi Jenny, look it's me Paul. How are you beautiful? I'm kind of a sentimental type of guy so I wanted to leave you this message for when you get back from work. Hope you have had a good day?

I wanted to let you know that since I first saw your picture online two months ago, you have completely changed my life, I'm not kidding. You have stolen my heart. I have not stopped smiling when I think of you. Your beautiful green eyes, your soft skin and that stunning red hair, the way you giggle still gives me butterflies. I dreamt about you again last night. You're my first thought of the day and my last at night. I just want to look after you, all the time. I want to protect you, make sure that you are safe. You. Are. My. Angel.

That's why I sit and wait for you outside your work and secretly watch you get to your car. Has anyone told you that you have a sexy walk, and your backside in those trousers. Perfection! I bet they haven't as no one sees you as I see you, no-one appreciates you as I do.

I love the way you take care of your body. Pilates twice a week, a morning run every morning at 6am. That takes dedication, that takes commitment.

I love the silly things you do. You do make me laugh when you dance around your living room to your favourite music. Haha Wham. Your guilty pleasure is safe with me.

I want to kiss you all night long. I love the little noises you make when you are asleep. You sometimes snore and a little dribble comes out (he giggles) and even that is bloody sweet. You are so frickin cute! Your hair always smells like fruit.

But, you're much more than just looks, you have the personality and the brains to match. That's why I chose you.

Isn't it crazy we haven't met yet?

Paul stands back to reveal where he is

And here I am in your house. Waiting for you. You have a beautiful home. You are a very stylish lady. Shall I tell you a secret? You'll find it funny.

Paul laughs

I have been here for two days now. And you haven't noticed me yet. Isn't that hilarious. What are you like?

He points a huge knife at the web cam.

Like I said you stole my heart and I want to steel yours. I want to keep it with me all the time. I'm going to hide again now. Where will I be this time? Behind your curtains? In Your shower? Behind the door? You'll never know....

You, know I just have to say. Thank you for adding me as a friend on Facebook, even though we have never met and we had no mutual friends. That takes real trust. Oh, I don't look like my profile picture. That was a model from Next. God that is so funny. Anyway, listen, tonight is the night that will meet. Ooh that's your car pulling up. You're early. I've got to go hide and then surprise you. I can't wait to see your face. Love you Angel.
